

Concrete has a high thermal mass. In summer it increases the temperature and in winter it decreases the temperature

Summer: The glass will reflect the light and increase the temperature in the middle of the buildings