

Allowing a single level within the space was effective. Navigation through the sapce would be failry easy and simple as 123.. once the space becomes familiar. The size restraint is an issue so freeing up the space to allow the areas to feel more open and less confined may be an option. The idea in this space is to have a single roof covering each area. Starting from the wet play area and ending in tehe quiet area. Allowing people to neter from both sides but being guied through the space with the use of pillars. The windows will also offer space to house plants as well as bringing light into each room.
